

RECRUITMENT FRAUD WARNING

Please be aware that there have been recent incidents where organisations/individuals, purporting to act on behalf of Dana, have contacted people and made offers of false employment opportunities with Dana. Such communications are fraudulent and do not originate from Dana, nor are they associated in any way with Dana's recruitment process.

These organisations and individuals may request personal information and/or money in order to process an employment application. Please note that Dana, or any authorised organisation that recruits on Dana's behalf, will never ask for money or payments from job applicants (whether as an employee or a contractor) at any point in the recruitment process. Should you be asked to make any payment, then you should assume that such individuals and organisations are not providing genuine services and that any offers made are false.

During the Dana recruitment process, you will always meet in person with a Dana employee or authorised representative for an interview before any formal offer is made. However, if you are asked for any personal information and are unsure of the legitimacy of the request, or if you have any queries at all concerning the authenticity of any purported request/employment opportunity, please contact us by utilising the "Contact" facility on our website.
